HONGKONG, JANUARY 26TH, 1891.

The alarm expressed by our correspondent "Dealer," whose letter appears in another column, seems to augur well for the success of the Bill to prevent time bargains in shares, which we trust will soon become law.

"Dealer" uses the argument, so often advanced against reform by angry or interested controversialists, that because some other evils will be left unaffected it is illogical to deal with a particular evil. Why, he asks, should gambling in shares be prohibited if gambling in exchange and in produce is to be allowed? Assuming that the business is of the same description in each of these categories, and granting that it is of an undesirable character, there is no reason why the evil should not be dealt with by steps and a convenient mode with gambling in shares. But the business is not of the same description. It is true that a manufacturer will enter into contracts to deliver at some future period articles or the raw material for which is not yet out of the ground; but the manufacturer knows that in ordinary course the raw material will come into existence and be available for his purpose. He is in much the same position as a contractor who undertakes to build a house; the builder has not the house ready for delivery at the time he makes the contract, but he proceeds to construct it. This is a very different thing from selling for forward delivery shares of which there are a limited number in existence and of which the seller has no certainty that he will be able to obtain any to fulfil his contract. Exchange business also stands on a different footing from gambling in shares. It is necessary for healthy commerce that the merchant should be able to protect himself against the fluctuations of exchange, and the exchange banks enter for him in this respect and for a consideration take the risk themselves; just as insurance companies take the risk of loss or damage by fire or shipwreck. Of course gambling can be introduced into every branch of business, notably into that of exchange, and it is often difficult to draw the dividing line between it and legitimate enterprise.

In regard to time contracts in shares, however, this difficulty does not arise, the whole business being gambling pure and simple. If it can be put a stop to it will be an excellent thing for the community, morally and pecuniarily.

"Dealer" expresses surprise that no notice has been taken by the brokers of Mr. Kewson's Bill, seeing the injurious effect it will have upon their business. The explanation we suggest is that these trustful gentlemen do not believe it possible such a Bill can be passed in any English Colony. But such a Bill has been passed in Canada, possibly, also in some other colonies, and Mr. Kewson's Bill has been sent home for the consideration of the Secretary of State, who has given his sanction to its being proceeded with. "Dealer" further urges that in this Colony there is a very large business in shares, employing many individuals and much capital, and that to stop it would be an unwarrantable interference with the rights of a British subject. Our correspondent surely does not require to be told that capital employed in gambling is unproductive, and that the individuals who conduct the business live on the community without in any way adding to its wealth.

The "honest broker" is a very useful member of society when his operations are confined to legitimate business, but when he becomes a gambling master he is very much the reverse of useful. Another argument advanced by our correspondent is that the law will not obeyed, and he instances Exon's Act, which he believes is practically a dead letter and not recognized by the London Stock Exchange. We do not believe the Bill will stop gambling in time bargains, but it will remove the sanctity of law which it now enjoys and place it on the same footing as gambling on horse-racing or on cards.

So far the story in Singapore. The brokers succeed in forming their proposed exchange they will be able to make their own rules on the subject and to exact the penalty of expulsion, but it will be no longer possible for the successful gambler to force his unsuccessful opponent into the Bankruptcy Court. The fact that the brokers succeed in forming their proposed exchange they will be able to make their own rules on the subject and to exact the penalty of expulsion, but it will be no longer possible for the successful gambler to force his unsuccessful opponent into the Bankruptcy Court.

The Times after the time in Singapore says—It is reported that two tigers have been seen near the Tampoi River, just near the place where the tiger was trapped last week. Mr. Chopard has done a great deal to keep the forest in order. Pugot has been abolished as a hazard and tigers are being hunted at Gaukou, in the heart of Shantou.

A. S. Watson & Company say—The little lad of Gaukou had to spend the night in the open air at 11 a.m. and it is freezing cold. It would seem that Gaukou will be abandoned shortly, as nothing is being done to keep the forest in order. Pugot has been abolished as a hazard and tigers are being hunted at Gaukou, in the heart of Shantou.

Yesterday the British cruiser Escadra arrived from a cruise.

The P. & O. Extra steamer Burmese left Singapore for this port at 9 a.m. yesterday.

According to the Australian paper Major-General James Evans, Edwards, C.B., has been made a K.C.M.G. not a C.M.G. as stated in the telegram in Indian papers reproduced by us at present.

THE AUSTRALIAN MAIL.

The China Navigation Co.'s steamer Tasman, with Australian mails arrived here yesterday morning. The following telegrams are extracted from our Australian files:

SURVIVAL OF THE WINTER IN SINGAPORE.

LONDON, 20th December.—A great frost is being experienced throughout England and upon the Continent of Europe, where the figure of the season is being aptly felt. During 30 consecutive days of the present month the sun has not been seen in London.

LONDON, 21st December.—Many deaths have taken place in England, from the intense cold.

Little frost has descended since of snows, pavements in Berlin, and injured the railway.

Many deer were compelled to seek food on the farms.

The cold was so intense that hundreds of birds were frozen to death.

General Booth is appealing for pecuniary aid to prevent a famine among the London poor, which is threatened in consequence of the intense rigor of the winter.

THE WHITE HORSE, LONDON, 2nd January.—The winter in England has been very severe.

For a day a sheep was roasted on the fire in the Thatched.

THE GOLD IN LONDON.

LONDON, 30th December.—An enormous fire broke out this morning in a large block of buildings situated between Queen Victoria's street and Upper Thames Street, near the Vicar of Blackfriars' Bridge. The fire spread with惊人的 rapidity, and threatened to assume tremendous proportions, but it was soon extinguished by the efforts of the fire brigade.

By the exertions of the firemen, the church was saved from total destruction, although the tower was seriously damaged.

Fifty fire engines from the various branches of the Metropolitan Fire Brigade were engaged in extinguishing the flames. The fire was confined to a block of warehouses and other buildings in which it originated, and has now been completely put out.

The total damage is estimated at £300,000.

LONDON, 31st December.—Owing to the disappearance of warehouse stocks, with valuable fur, the total loss by the fire now amounts to £500,000.

THE LEADERSHIP.

LONDON, 31st December.—The Rev. Henry Allard, D.D., of the Times, declares that the revolution made during the lifetime of the Prince-Parnell Commission showed that Mr. Parnell is capable of treachery and falsehood. He also says that the result of the recent divorce proceedings has added to Mr. Parnell's unpopularity, destroying irreversibly the confidence of the Northern friends in his honesty and in the reality of his principles.

The London friends of Mr. Parnell declare that the basic of a compromise between the Lancastrians and the Justin McCarthy section has been arranged.

Mr. Parnell has refused to attend the Central League funds. He has declined to meet the suggestion by Mr. William O'Brien that Mr. Dillon should be nominated as leader of the Irish party until Mr. Parnell chooses to resume the leadership.

Mr. O'Brien holds that Justin McCarthy's party has nearly won the Irish election, and is jeopardizing the American election.

LONDON, 15th January.—William O'Brien, the Irish agitator who recurred to America while under hell some hideous sign, has returned and delivered himself up to the law. He will now have to serve a sentence of several months imprisonment.

The Irish party is now disengaged in consequence of Mr. Parnell refusing to retire from public life for a time.

THE BIRMINGHAM SEA FISHERIES DISPUTE.

LONDON, 31st December.—The Daily Oracle announces that Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister at Washington, intended to resign in consequence of the failure of the parleyings in reference to the Bering Sea fisheries dispute.

In fact, Sir Julian Pauncefote, British Minister at Washington, has denied the truth of the report to the effect that he contemplated resigning in consequence of the failure of the negotiations for a settlement of the Bering Sea fisheries dispute.

LONDON, 1st January.—Mr. Blaine, the American Secretary of State, has sent to the American ports, except one, against the arrival of Canadian cattle. The Canadian declare that the United States Government is trying to cover Canada's yield to the American cattle in the Bering Sea fisheries dispute.

The United States Government is sending several armed steamers to Bering Sea to protect American interests.

The Pacific Squadron is to be mobilized off Port Townsend in the spring.

LONDON, 15th January.—With reference to the Bering Sea fisheries dispute between England and America, it is expected that the United States will yield to the American claims in the Bering Sea fisheries dispute.

The British Government is sending a deputation to America to bring about a settlement of the dispute.

THE RAILWAY DISPUTE IN SCOTLAND.

LONDON, 15th January.—Its troubles in connection with the Scotch railway strike continue. Blots of a serious nature are of frequent occurrence, and the obnoxious acts have been the cause of several slight accidents. The disturbance at last became so alarming that the police and military bid to be called out to keep order, and many arrests have been made.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN MELBOURNE.

MELBOURNE, 1st January.—A fire broke out this morning, about half-past 3 o'clock, in the Astor House, St. Kilda, by which the premises were destroyed. The flames burned with great rapidity, and a soldier of the first brigades was directed to extinguish the adjoining buildings. The loss is a destructive and total, and is estimated at £10,000.

The result in Kilkenny, in our judgment, offers a chance of rounding up our party, and we earnestly hope that both sides will now co-operate with Mr. O'Brien in bringing about a reunion of the Irish National party.

THE IRISH NATIONAL PARTY.

LONDON, 23rd December.—Michael Davitt's newspaper, the Labour World, today, reveals the onslaught rapidly made upon Mr. Parnell through its columns. In the course of a long attack upon the "Unwound King," it says that if any compromise Mr. Parnell makes with the Irish party, a number of anti-Parnellites who have abandoned public life, which would be disastrous to the party at large. The Labour World adds: Mr. Parnell is a greater danger to Ireland than any outside enemy ever has been. No foreign forces, it says, has ever so endangered Ireland as Mr. Parnell, who as this new pretender, unscrupulously, trampled over the scrupulous enemy of liberty and freedom, who attacks Ireland's honour in its most vital part, and who betrayed his trust of honour committed to his care.

DILLON AND O'CONNOR ON THE KILKENNY.

NEW YORK, 23rd December.—Messrs. Dillon and O'Connor, the two remaining Irish senators on this side of the Atlantic, issued the following statement to-night in reference to the Kilkenny election:—"We learned the result of the Kilkenny election with great interest, and are sorry to find that, though we hoped for it, it is a vindication of the purity and integrity of the constituency. Because it shows that a consideration for the good of the country and the safety of the cause have prevailed with the electors over the natural feelings of gratitude and affection for a good man like Mr. Parnell, who has done much for the cause of Ireland, and who is a considerate part of the Irish party, but is not a member of the Constitutional party. The stock was valued at £270,000, but had been reduced by ordinary trials to £263,000, and the insurance upon it amounts to £71,200. The building, which cost £17,000 to erect, was insured for £11,000, so that the total amount of insurance was over £280,000. The average stock is now at £23,000."
